SOME OF THOSE PRESENT. Among the green hills of Westchester nature pre pared a beautiful little plain where every year the people of the county pitch the tents of their annual Yesterday was the opening day of this sea son's fair, and all day long from the village to White Plains, a mile or two away, a stream of carriages ebbed and flowed along the dusty road between the from all the country round, from the fertile farm and the stately manor-house, and comprised all the freams and fancies of the carriage-maker's art, from drags and brakes, in whose recesses nestled champagne and cold chicken for the noonday luncheon, to ndescript vehicles in which the fare was 15 cents on the fair grounds were all the accessories of the edinary county fair and other accessories of which no county fair except that of Westchester can hoast. The mind became confused in trying to take in a the same time the marvellously correct attire of the young gentlemen riders in the pony races, and at the ne grasp the glories of the prize squash and the mammoth pumpkin. All the morning was given to preparation and to getting the exhibits properly entered. By noon the tents and buildings on the grounds contained displays of fruits, flowers and vegeables which showed a wide range in the productive ness of Westchester. To those whose ideas of vegetables are obtained from a chance visit to market or a walk over an ordinary farm, this display of what Westchester can do is a revelation. Everything looked so tempting that one felt like eating his way through all the fruit and smaller vegetables and ordering the great pumpkins immediately made into an infinity of pies. Then there were ong sheds where splendid cattle stood with a selfconscious air, as if they knew they were on exhibicorses were waiting contentedly till their turns can stand were the booths of the men who deal in hot popcorn and of those who sell hot sausages, together cangements, and other contrivances, without

In the first trotting race one of the matic-tired sulkies gave an exhibition of its varied abilities, which for a time furnished considerable excitement. G. W. Haight, of Waterbury, was coming up the homestretch at a rating pace driving his seat, or did something else which the pneum tire did not like, and the sulky tipped over backward. In an instant there was a wild confusion of horse, ma and pneumatic tires, all mixed up so that no man could tell where one left off and the other began. Then the horse cleared bimself of the wree complete circuit, he left the track, flew like the wind down through the grounds, out of the gates, and was inally seen running along the crest of a distant hill, with a mounted policeman in hot pursuit. the most exciting race of the day, for mounted police nan and runaway horse were clearly and sharp y defined against the sunflooded sky, both going they were worth." THE DUTCHESS COUNTY FAIR. FINE STOCK SHOWN THAT ATTRACTS ADMIRA-

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 27 (Special).—There was a large attendance for a first day at the opening of the fair of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society today. Exhibition Hall, which holds 12,000 people, is filled with fine exhibits from merchants, farmers and others, and the cattle department contains the largest exhibit of stock ever seen at a county fair here. The herds include brown Swiss from Connecticut, Guernseys and Alderneys, working cattle, fat cattle, Ayreshires, red polled native and cross-blood, etc. The poultry department takes in all the famous breeds. The fair people this year miss the cattle always sent here by John B. Dutcher and Shermans, from the east side of the county, also Vice President Morton's stock. It was also expected that Cakleigh Thorn' imported sheep would be here; but they are not. However, all the stock in the yards are greatly adthey deserve, and will stand, close inspection. Entries are coming in all the time, and by to-morrow the exhibition will be fully under way and an immense attendance is expected. The trotting this afternoon included three races In the gentlemen's road class there were six start ers, best two in three. McCurdy's Patsy won the first in 2:431-2, and Tripp's Milibrook the next two in 2:43 1-2 and 2:45 1-2. class was a good one, and there contested each house and Lady Douglass hotty contested each heat. In the first heat Nomenee broke near the wire and ran considerable, taking the heat by a nose in 2:25-14, but the judges set her back and gave the heat to Lady Douglass. The last race of the day was for the three-minute class, which was won tay was for the three-minute class, by Nellie Hamilton in straight heats

THE MINEOLA FAIR OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

The Queens County Agricul'ural Society's fifty-first auspices yesterday at Mincola. There was an unusually tables and other farm products was fine, and the ments were much more numerous and of higher grade than in former years. The horse department, probably owing to the large amount offered in premiums and purses, afforded the most interesting features of the day, and will con'inue to do so during the three remaining days of the fair. The array of colts, yearlings and two-year-olds entered for premiums is probably the best ever shown on Long Island.

At the buttle f Anticiam Lieutenant Morris distinguished himself and was promoted to the brevet rank of captain.

At the close of the war General Hancock recomended Captain Morris for major, which was constied until after his engagement in the Nez Perces campaign. He also participated in the Modor campaign. Ill health enforced his retirement in October, Major Morris came of a good stock. His greatgrandfather, Lewis Morris, was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. His grandfather was Lieutenant William Morris, who served during the War of the Revolution. His father was Major-Gen-Morris, who served with diseral William Waiton Morris, who served with dis-tinction, in the Seminose and Mexican wars, and who commanded the defences of Baltimore during the Civil War. Major Morris was a member of the Loyal Legion, the Order of the Cincinnati and other societies. He leaves a wife and one son. The funeral will take place at the Church of the Holy Sepulche, of which Major Morris was vestryman, at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

MR. VANDERBILT TO BUILD AT GLOUCESTER. Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 27.-It is reported here that Cornelius Vanderbilt, who spent the summer at Minister Coolidge's Manchester estate, has bought the old Stage Fort property in this city, and that he will build thereon a magnificent summer place.

Chicago, Sept. 27.-The Grand Jury to day took up the alleged attempt of the Hawthorne Race Track mana-gers to bribe Mayor Washburne and Chief of Police McClaughrey to close the Garfield track. Subpoenas were issued for the Mayor, the Chief of Police, Edward Corrigan and "One Armed" Schimmel, the purpose présumably being to elicit what they know of Hawthorne's alleged offer of $50,000 to a certain political campaign fund in the event of Garfield being closed. Unifortunately for the investigators, Messrs. McClaughrey and Washburne are both out of the city.

Boston, Sept. 27 (Special).—This was the opening day of the meeting of the New-England Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, at Mystic Park. Thirty animals were listed for the morning sale, but several of the consignees became disgusted with the poor prices and withdrew some of their stock, so that only fifteen animals were actually offered. The bidding was slow, end a number of good horses of blood with the strongest guarantees behind them sold remarkably cheap. There is every indication that the trotting during this meeting will be exceptionally good. Great things are expected of the 2:15 class race, which comes to-morrow afternoon. In the stables there are a number of noted animals on exhibition, among them being the celebrated pacer Hai Pointer, 2:05%, and in fact a strong wind along the backstretch prevented fast time. In the first heat of the 2:30 race, Midnight Chimes, a black filly owned by C. J. Hamtin, burst a blood-vessel and foll dead on the track just after passing the distance pole. Her driver, "Ed" Geers, was thrown, but was uninjured. The filly had a record of 2:18½, and was valued at $15,000.

IN MEMORY OF GENERAL POPE.

Washington, Sept. 27 .- The War Department to-day promulgated an order to the Army reciting the war record and distinguished services of the late Major-General Pope. The order recites the profound regret at the death of General Pope, and says: General Pope's death closes an eminently useful, century in the service of his country. This service coupled with his life-long habit of study, had stored his mind with a wealth and variety of knowledge and information on professional and very many other subjects rarely acquired, and made him a most valuable counsellor on an extended range of subjects; his discriminating judgment and ready facility with voice discriminating judgment and ready facility with voice and pen in using his knowledge gave him a commanding influence during the larger part of his career. The many acts prompted by his thoughtful and generous nature have endeared him to those with whom he was associated, and many such who survive him will ever tenderly cherish his memory.

The commanding officer at Jefferson Barracks is ordered to take the necessary action for proper and suitable military ceremonial to mark the respect in which his memory is held.
